

Martial Arts Stage Schedule 2018

11:45		Ballina Kenjutsu	www.jikishinkageryu.eu
		Jikishinkage-ryu Kenjutsu is a school of classical Japanese swordsmanship from the late 15th century. The style has remained unbroken as a tradition for five centuries; nowadays it can be practiced in Japan, Hungary, Poland, Germany, and Ireland. The school focuses on fighting sword-to-sword.
12:00		Dublin Aikikai Aikido	www.dublinaikido.com
		Dublin Aikikai Aikido is an organisation dedicated to the teaching and promotion of traditional Aikikai Aikido, as taught at the Hombu Dojo in Tokyo. Aikido is a beautiful and relatively under-represented martial art, partly because it is non-competitive and is predominantly for personal development.
12:30		Irish Kendo Federation	irishkendofederation.org
		Kendo na hÉireann is the National Governing Body for the Japanese Martial Arts of Kendo, Iaido and Jodo in Ireland. We practice traditional Japanese sword arts, and are keen to promote these and demonstrate the legacy of the Japanese Samurai.
13:00		Kenjutsu Ireland	aikijoseph.wixsite.com/kenjutsu-ireland
		We are an association dedicated to the preservation and promotion of traditional Japanese budo/bujutsu, based in the South East of Ireland. Kenjutsu Ireland practices Katori Shinto Ryu Kenjutsu in Thomastown in Kilkenny.
13:30		JKA Shotokan	www.jkashotokanireland.ie
		JKA Shotokan Ireland is a Karate Club Organisation directly affiliated to the Japan Karate Association Headquarters in Tokyo Japan. We practice traditional Shotokan karate, one of the most recognised karate styles in the world.
14:00		Kodokan Judo Club	www.kodokanireland.com
		Kodokan Ireland follow the teaching and moral code of Judo, as instructed by our master Jigoro Kano. It is for us a great honour to work directly with the Japanese Embassy in Ireland through any type of event.
14:30		Ballina Kenjutsu	(see above)
		See above.
14:45		Break
15:00		Irish Karate Kyokushinkai	www.kyokushinireland.com
		This year marks our 40th year anniversary in Ireland. We will be holding a knockdown tournament in Trinity college on the 23rd of June in celebration. We have Dojo's in Dublin, Westmeath, Galway and Mayo. We welcome everybody and anyone to join in with us and train in our Dojo's!

Timetable subject to variation on the day.
